

On Monday 20th March 2017 seventeen students from our school visited the Culture Centre in Wroclaw to see a show called "Dracula and the Eco Warrior" by Paul Stebblings and Phil Smith.

The performance was a modern version of a cult novel "Dracula". The main character is a rich investor. He collaborates with Lucy's Renfield company. Her employees don't know anything about Dracula's dark secret. A young lawyer Jonathan discoveres the horrible truth. Further goings-on lead to unexpected situations.

The show was a mix of humor, fear and excitement. Everyone was contented. Actors were speaking English, so the spectators had to show off their language skills. Kołłątaj's students didn't fail. It wasn't just a good entertainment. It was also an interesting opportunity to check up ourselves. Learning with fun. Everyone likes that form of study.
